

Selection Criteria for QEDDI projects

Commercial criteria	Scientific criteria
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clinical need in target indication(s) • Differentiation from current and future competitors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clinical path feasibility
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Likelihood of early commercial outcome at lead optimisation or preclinical development stage • Market and commercial opportunity for product • Freedom to operate; potential for strong IP position • Regulatory pathway • Reimbursement potential 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tractability for discovery <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Target (class) druggability • Access to relevant hit ID strategy • Access to screening assay(s), protein supply to support assay • Safety considerations • Availability/access to animal models • Degree of target validation, fit for portfolio • Access to therapeutic area KOLs / expertise – (UQ , collaborators, consultants)